
DEATH OF MR. B. PEARLMAN

Valdosta Merchant Died in Charleston Last Night

Mr. B. Pearlman, one of the best

Mr. B. Pearlman, one of the best known Hebrew merchants of Valdosta, died late yesterday afternoon in Charleston, S. C., where he had gone a few weeks ago with the hope that the change would prove beneficial to his health. A message was received by Mr. W. C. Griffin, manager of Mr. Pearlman's business here, that Mr. Pearlman was dying, this was between four and five o'clock. An hour or so later another message stated he was dead.

Mr. Pearlman had been sick since early in the spring. He remained in one of the sanitariums of this city for some time under treatment for fever which was complicated with a serious trouble of the heart. The latter trouble is thought to be the direct cause of his death.

Mr. Pearlman was about 37 years came from that country to America about 27 years ago. He was in the mercantile business at Americus, Ga., for some time, coming from that city to Valdosta twelve or thirteen years ago, and was connected with Mr. J. Black, his brother-in-law in the mercantile business here for five years, afterwards going in business for himself.

He was a very successful merchant and leaves his financial affairs in good shape. Besides his business, he carried a life insurance policy for $5,000.

$5,000.

Mr. Pearlman married Miss Hattie Oppenheim, of Charleston, several years ago, and it was with Mrs. Pearlman's people they were staying when he died.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a number of relatives in America, besides his father in Russia, who is said to be 75 years of age. He also has one sister in Russia. Two of his sisters are in Valdosta. They are Mrs. J. Black and Mrs. S. Myers. Mrs. P. Lazarus, of Quitman, is another sister. He leaves two brothers, Messrs. M. N. Pearlman, of Boston, and D. Pearlman, of Americus.

It is understood that the funeral will be tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, in one of the cemeteries of Charleston.

Messrs. W. C. Griffin and J. T. Brown left on the early train this morning for Charleston, and will remain there until after the funeral tomorrow, returning they will reach Valdosta tomorrow night or early Saturday morning.
